My Ambition

I am very skilled in time management, personell management, creating systems and processes from scratch, team building, and leadership in any capacity or role I am put in. I am an extremely quick learner, and I am able to critically evaluate a problem and find a solution or work with others to come up with one.

The truth of the matter is that I love to code. I find it extremely enjoyable. When my love for coding is combined with my skillset that has been developed and honed over the years, I believe I owuld make a very well rounded front-end devleoper with the ability to thrive in a team.

Employment

Elephante - Bar Manager - 2018-Present
I am responsible for maintaining and overseeing all elements related to the bar program. This requires on-the-fly thinking, ability to come up with solutions to problems that arise at any point in time, and attitude that fosters relationships and mentors fellow colleagues.
